YORK COLLEGE:

OUR FIRST YEAR

YCA 1787

YCI 1873

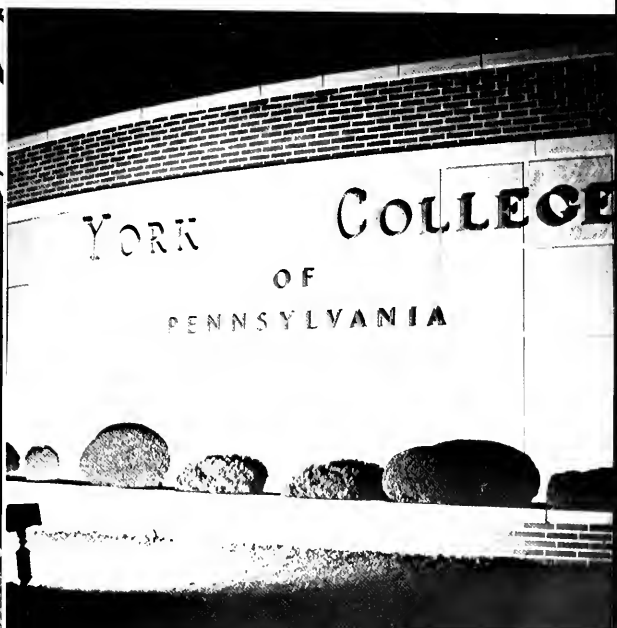

In September 1968, York became Pennsylvania's newest four-year college. Although our new name and status may suggest that we are in our infancy, we have, in reality a long heritage as an educational institution.

Ours is a legacy which had its beginning almost two centuries ago. Our ancestral institutions, York County Academy founded in 1787 and York Collegiate Institute founded in 1873, laid the groundwork for the establishment of York Junior College in 1941, with a modest enrollment of forty-two students.

In 1961, York Junior College moved to its present site and after seven years obtained its present four-year status and an enrollment of nearly two thousand.

A NEW EXPERIENCE . . .

"Freshman Parents" are greeted by Dr. Anderson during Parents' Weekend.

Through new construction, the college continues to grow.

This year proved to be a new experience not only for the incoming Freshman class but also for the sophomores, faculty and administration.

Beanies and signs, dorm life, Parents' Weekend, and registration (Man's inhumanity to man) were just a few of the new experiences which greeted the first class of York College. New courses being organized and staffed, as well as an increased number of students added to the burdens of the faculty and administration. A new college, a new burden, a new experience are offered to York College and its students.

York's first filmstars acted (?) in several Coke commercials.

... AND A CONTINUATION

Although the College has grown, many areas of campus life remain unchanged. Even though new faces constantly appear, the faculty increases and courses are added, the business of education remains unchanged.

Many traditions of the junior college were carried over this year. Freshman week, the tug-of-war, family-style meals, and the eagerly anticipated Presidential Holiday are activities which continued to be a part of our life.

On a warm day an outdoor class can make a lecture more bearable.

Freshman Week—Sophomores claimed it was too easy while the Freshmen cried it was too rough.

STUDY TIME ESSENTIAL

It is said that man's flight through life is sustained by the power of his knowledge. This knowledge cannot be obtained without the effort of study.

Only through the exploration of questions can a student hope to learn. These questions can only be answered in earnest study. In all aspects of learning York College has to offer—Business, Science, and the Liberal Arts—study is the essential prerequisite for success.

Reading is a full time job—an hour in the library or five minutes before class.

In many classes the students learn by doing.

LEISURE MOMENTS . . .

York students find numerous ways to use precious free time. Some join service clubs which provide opportunities to contribute to community life. Music and athletics are other enjoyable outlets. Parties, dances, guest lecturers, the Dutchman's Pub and game room—all these are part of our York scene.

Cards are popular even at half-time.

UNIQUE FOR EACH INDIVIDUAL

Even Bingo kept students busy on weekends.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

The President of York College

Dr. Ray A. Miller

The students and faculty of York College of Pennsylvania are deeply indebted to Dr. Ray A. Miller, President. It was largely through his wisdom and guidance that York became a four-year institution.

Division of Liberal Arts

Ever since Homeric days education in the Liberal Arts has been the hallmark of the educated person. While the presentation of these studies has suffered some alteration since the golden era of Athens, nonetheless, the pursuit of a well-rounded education has always included a sprinkling of subjects which in themselves yield no skill-producing training.

And yet, a question could be raised: Is not the art of thinking and thinking rationally, a skill to be prized above all others? And again, is not the capacity to dream great dreams the product of a broad knowledge of man's past achievements, a sense, a feeling of history?

At York College, the study of the Liberal Arts is offered to those whose academic bent points them in this direction. But selections from the Liberal Arts roster of courses are also infused in the curricula of other disciplines, for here we like to think of our students as knowledgeable people who offer society useful skills informed by an understanding of what man has been, and what he can become.

In Memoriam

The unexpected death of Professor Thomas Narus has left a real void in the York family. His place in our hearts will be hard to fill.

Division of Science and Engineering

The Science and Engineering disciplines have pushed man beyond the wildest dreams of philosophers, from deep within the earth's crust to the outer reaches of space. They have probed the minuteness of sub-atomic structures, as well as the magnitude of a Van Allen belt. They have enabled man to build sub-miniature electronic devices that used together propel a multi-tonned payload into a pre-determined orbit around a specifically stated object.

The scientist and engineer work together to push back the frontiers of the infinitely small as well as the infinitely large. They are both concerned with new knowledge and of what use this knowledge can be for man.

While the philosophers dream of new worlds to conquer, the scientists show the way and the engineers get the job done. At York College, we hope our students find in their niche that way in which the world may be better for their having lived.

The modern tool of business—a computer.

Division of Business Administration

Someone once said that, "behind every great man there is a greater woman." So often has this been the case, that what was a wise statement when first uttered has now become a truism.

The same kind of reasoning can be used in describing the relationship that exists between the philosopher, the scientist, the engineer and the business man.

The engineer makes possible what the scientist discovers, and the scientist investigates what the philosopher has envisioned. But back of all these stands the business man, that unique, unsung hero who provides the material backing for all of life's great quests.

The Division of Business Administration trains its students in the efficient use of money and the responsible leadership of people. It is the wise use of these two assets of money and persons that ultimately starts the wheels of progress down which the philosopher has yearned we go.

ORGANIZATIONS AND ACTIVITIES

Seated: Becky Pollard, William Walker, William Hoyt, Gail Porter.
Standing: Dr. Myles Anderson, Melinda Leibig, Linda Swartz, Barbara Peltier.

Student Senate

President of the Student Senate—Bill Walker.

This year the Senate has worked to improve student life in every aspect. Regulations that were not in the students' best interests were reviewed and every effort was made to change them. Social activities were more than doubled since the last school year and instead of a social affair once every week, the Senate made possible two activities every weekend. The social committee, under the directorship of Michael Yost worked hard to make these functions a success. The Christmas Formal under the chairmanship of Julie Kirchver was the highlight of the semester's social calendar.

The Student Senate went all out this year for big name entertainment. The semester began with an early fall concert featuring the Impressions. The support for this concert and the students' desire for more resulted in another successful first semester concert with Wilson Pickett. These social activities owe their success to the hard working Mr. Buckler for his support in making them come about.

Men's Residence Council

For the third consecutive year the Men's Resident Council has been active in the affairs of Manor Hall's men. Under the leadership of President, Robert Galucci, a representative from each of Manor Hall's seven floors conducted many services. Free coffee and doughnuts during exam week, dances, hogie sales, the Halloween evening open house and costume contest, and periodical floor parties were just a few of the first semester's activities. During the second semester, the group plans an outing such as a week-end trip to New York City, a basketball or hockey game in Baltimore, or a ski weekend in Vermont. The purpose of the organization is to make dorm life a rewarding experience, as well as act as spokesman for resident men.

Seated: Cookie Bouis, Terry Weidenhamer, Miss Rodd.

Standing: Margaret Rohrer, Darlene Snyder, Jerle Hanlin, Linda Troxell, Mary Lou Hays.

Women's Residence Council

The Woman's Residence Council under the guidance of Miss Barbara Rodd once again this year exercised its power as the official spokesman for all resident women. Members represented each floor in Penn and Springettsbury Halls, and off-campus housing. Meetings were conducted by president Terri Weidenhamer every Tuesday evening after a group dinner. Besides evaluating students suggestions and complaints, the council provided various social servics, such as the Parents' Day Tea, and the door decoration contest at Christmas.

Front Row: D. Chalker, R. Newman, J. Flinchbaugh, M. Bingham.
Second Row: M. Bougher, M. Beck, T. Berwager, G. Miller, R. Weaver, Mr. Noel.

Mu Eta Kappa

MHK president, Dave Chalker, presents Bill Conn and Debbie Throne with the first place trophies for their victory in the MHK rally.

The purpose of Mu Eta Kappa is the betterment of self, the college, and the community. Under the guidance of Mr. Fred Noel, faculty advisor and former brother, the fraternity had a very active year. Among its activities were a candy sale, assisting at two steeplechases sponsored by the Rose Tree Fox Hunting Club, as well as the traditional parties. But perhaps the biggest activity of the year was the car rally in which Bill Conn and Debbie Throne defeated a field of 20 other contestants. Membership is open to all men of York College who maintain an average of 2.0 or better. Plans are now being made for affiliation with a national fraternity.

MHK's Vice President, Gregg Small, prepares to deliver that warm glow of brotherhood to pledge Bob Byrne.

Jeff Flinchbaugh and Mike Bingham receive a check from Mr. Buckler for Mu Eta Kappa's outstanding service during the Rose Tree Steeplechase.

Alpha Delta Kappa

Alpha Delta Kappa is a history honor society devoted to fostering interest in the field of History, sponsoring educational events, and stimulating scholarly study.

Membership in the organization is by election if the student meets the standards of a 2.5 history average.

This year the members, along with their advisor Dr. Coulter, took field trips to places of historic interest in central Pennsylvania, the Peabody Museum in Baltimore and sponsored a lecture by Dr. William Judd.

Intercultural Studies Club

The object of the Intercultural Studies Club is to furnish accurate and relevant information about non-western peoples—their history, culture, governments, problems, traditions, and hopes.

Membership is open to any York College Student who has a keen interest in the understanding of foreign peoples.

The club is an outgrowth of York's new Intercultural Studies program which was initiated this year. Club members were exposed to various ideas through guest lectures, seminars, and field trips. A trip to New York City and the United Nations was the highlight of the year's activities.

L.A.I.G.

The purpose of the Latin American Interest Group is to promote and develop a better understanding of our neighbors to the South through informal meetings and discussions. Activities included Christmas Caroling in Spanish, a trip to a Spanish restaurant in Baltimore, and talks with several exchange students from various South and Central American countries.

Ski Club

The lack of snow earlier this year did not dampen the interest of the newly formed Ski Club. While the club is a rather informal group York College ski enthusiasts maintained a high level of participation with any staff member or student welcome on their trips. Throughout the season, several trips were made to nearby slopes and a week-end trip to a New England ski resort was planned for later in the year.

Phi Delta Phi

ΦΔΦ

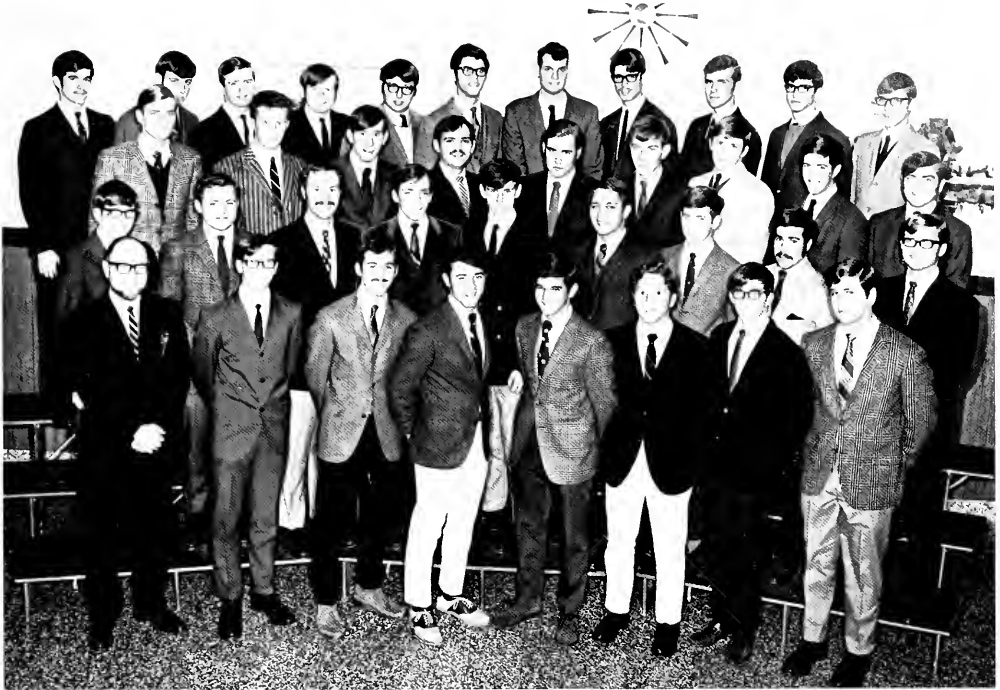

Affectionately known as Phi Del to York College students, Phi Delta Phi fraternity functions not only as a social group, but rather combines campus life into a stimulating atmosphere of social life, service to College and community, and academic excellence.

Phi Delta Phi can usually be found extending a helping hand to any cause. Earlier this year their members could be seen lending technical assistance as well as serving as attendants at the Rose Tree Hunt Club. The most memorable event of the year was the excursion made to Watkins Glen, New York, to witness the eighth running of the Grand Prix of the United States.

YCP's vets sent several hundred Christmas cards to servicemen overseas.

Chi Gamma Iota

Despite the new name, the York College Veteran's organization is the same group that won last year's Honor's Scoop as the most outstanding campus group. After reorganizing as a fraternity the group first undertook the construction of a float for the York Halloween Parade. With the start of the basketball season, the vets assisted at the home games in various service capacities. At Christmas time they sent greeting cards to servicemen in Vietnam.

Chi Gamma Iota started the second semester on a highpoint with a triumphant defeat of the W.S.B.A. "Goodguys" in an hilarious basketball game.

I wandered slowly down my college years.
At times I faltered; again, I almost stumbled on the contemplation, the expectation of my life to come.

And yet, the anguish of perspective occupation
Was overshadowed by concern about my fellow men.

Not until I experienced the ecstasy of knowledge did I come to terms with what life holds.

My college days shall be a treasured preface to that book wherein I become a citizen of the world.

Lambda Sigma Chi

Lambda Sigma Chi exists to give service to the College and community, to encourage cultural interests and scholastic achievement and to develop close friendship among women students on campus.

To achieve these goals, the sorority sisters have engaged in many projects which include the preparation of Thanksgiving baskets for needy families, entertaining under-privileged children, collecting for UNICEF and ushering at many campus events.

Alpha Rho Sigma

Alpha Rho Sigma is an honorary fraternity composed of students who are majoring in engineering, mathematics or science. Its purpose is to stimulate an interest in the engineering profession to educate students in the requirements of the many engineering fields and to help them find specific fields for which they are best suited.

In the past the fraternity has made trips to industrial plants in and around the York area and sponsored guest speakers who have lectured on topics associated with engineering.

Variety Club

L-R: Dr. C. W. Boas, Kathy McDonald, Blaine Sheffer, Nidia Martinez, Don Hossler, Doug Kendig, Dee Hart, Eleanor Ermin, Bruce Emdur, Ronald Lauer, Lynda Willson.

Dr. Boas gives Doug Kendig pointers on clown make-up while other members discuss additions to the act.

The Variety Club under the direction of Dr. Charles Boas, and Miss Betty Richwine, was organized in the fall of 1968 as a service organization that presents performances at convalescent homes, hospitals and other places where people are in need of entertainment and diversion. Twenty members met each Wednesday afternoon during the fall to rehearse dance skits, songs, acrobatic and variety acts. The Club's presentation, "Vaudeville Days", recalls the entertainment past and brings back memories of old time "show-biz" to many older adults. The Clown Contingent of the group specializes in entertaining children in homes, hospitals and schools. After many weeks practice the club went on tour in February and proved a great success.

F.S.A.

The Future Secretaries Association, White Rose Chapter, is composed of more than thirty girls interested in the secretarial field. Under the direction of Mr. Ellis and Mrs. Poff, the F.S.A. participated in many activities, both academic and social.

Among the events sponsored this year by the group were a fashion show, a field trip to the Standard Register Company and a picnic planned for the end of the spring semester. In addition, the F.S.A. hosted lectures by guest speakers in the secretarial area.

S.A.M.

The Society for Advancement of Management is an organization designed to bring business students closer to the actual business world by familiarizing them with business policies, methods of management, and the problems associated with the exchange and distribution of goods and services.

The York Chapter arranged tours through several local businesses including WSBA-TV, Catapillar, and McCroy. Several speakers from various companies also came on campus to speak to the students about opportunities in today's business world.

The Student Education Association is an organization of students who plan to enter the teaching profession. The local chapter endeavors to develop, in prospective teachers, an appreciation of the professional aspects of their career, and to stimulate a desire to become participating members in the professional functions of their club, college, and community. This year's activities include a panel discussion with fourth grade children of how they felt about their teachers and school, raising money for Jean Miller, and mending Christmas toys for needy children. Throughout the year several students also had first-hand teaching experience by tutoring students at local elementary schools.

HORIZON 1969

Mr. Crosby and "Quincy"

Despite the late start, the HORIZON was published. When the staff was formed in October, only four weeks before the first deadline, many thought the book couldn't be completed in time.

As deadlines approached, Editor Farley could be seen pulling out his watch to check the time, seemingly counting the minutes, while Sue Smith sent a hail of notes to faculty and clubs. Before he turned into a waiter, Barry Moss usually spent the hour before dinner writing those little lies to fill the space beside the pictures; and later Dee Hart typed the copy and corrected his spelling errors.

With no free periods this year, the staff had few meetings; instead the staff members came in when they could and the work was finally completed in February—we hope you enjoy it.

SPECIAL EVENTS

The year-long Interfaith Series was concerned with a "Perspective on the Mid-East and Israel." In a succession of lectures, panels and dialogues, speakers of acknowledged authority were brought to the Campus to speak on various phases of this highly explosive area. Speakers included Dr. Karl Baehr, America-Israel Cultural Foundation of New York City; Dr. Martin M. Weitz, Director of the Center for Interfaith Studies, Lincoln University; the Rev. Dr. Sophocles M. Sophocles, Dean of Cultural Affairs, P.M.C. Colleges; and Dr. Nasrollah Saifpour Fatemi, Dean of the Graduate School of Fairleigh-Dickinson University and a direct descendant of the Prophet Mohammad's only daughter, Fatimah. Dr. Richard Coulter, Associate Professor, History Department was sponsor for this series.

Campaign '68

The Political Affairs Group, under the guidance of Dr. Carl Hatch sponsored one of the most interesting events of the school year. Influenced by the national elections, a mixed panel, consisting of faculty and student members presented the views of the major Presidential candidates. Though emotions were high-keyed and opinions were spontaneously expressed by an alert and well-informed audience, Chairman Rip Wilson did a fine job controlling the proceedings.

As an outcome, a mock election was conducted involving almost total participation by the student body and adult evening class members. The results ran close to the final national poll, as Richard Nixon tallied the majority of the votes.

Although our voting took several days the result was the same as Nov. 5—Nixon.

A speech at York failed to help Sen. Clark win reelection.

Karate Convo

At the November 13th student Convocation, York College was formally introduced to the fine art of Takwando, more commonly known as karate. The club members demonstrated exercises, techniques, and deep concentration needed for perfection in the sport. Featuring their teacher and "black-belt" expert of the art, Young Chi-Bai awed the attentive audience with remarkable feats of endurance. The usual misconception that karate was nothing more than breaking boards was quickly modified. Every participant is instilled with a sense of courtesy, honor, and dedication connected with the sport, and all of the students in attendance agreed that the "Karate Convo" was the most interesting and exciting of the Fall semester.

Parents' Weekend

Professor deVanguardi discusses his personal teaching technique.

The College Band fared well at its first concert on Parents' Day.

Even parents find registration confusing.

Dr. Miller's address centered on the new four-year program.

The weekend of October 26-27 was set aside by York College to honor the parents of students. The annual "Parents Weekend" was highlighted by various activities to provide an enjoyable, yet profitable and educational experience for those participating. Faculty members informed interested parents on developments in the three divisions at our college: Business Administration, Science and Engineering, and the Liberal Arts. A more informal gathering took place afterward to better acquaint parents with instructors and administrators. On the less serious side, participants enjoyed a steak dinner in the Johnson Dining Hall in an atmosphere of soft candlelight and soothing music.

Christmas Concert

This year the York College Choir found itself wrapped up in the Christmas spirit. Besides performing at the annual Christmas concert at the college, it also spread its harmonious melodies throughout South Central Pennsylvania. Mr. Ralph Woolley directed the group during its entire tour. While the choir was busy with its activities, the band, under Mr. Arlington Kahley, prepared for the Christmas concert at the college. On December 2nd their combined efforts were enthusiastically received by the student body and staff.

"Highpoint" of the Christmas Convo was Director Ralph Woolley leading the students in a rousing rendition of "Jingle Bells".

Winter Wonderland

The 1968 Fall semester was high-lighted on December 7th by the annual Christmas season formal. Under the sponsorship and supervision of the Student Senate, "Winter Wonderland" proved an enjoyable evening for all the participating students and the faculty and administration chaperones. During the course of the evening, Joy Musser, escorted by Steve Burgess, was crowned our new Christmas Queen. Her court represented various campus organizations. The soothing melodies of "The Yorkers" contrasted with the rock sound of "The Intentions" provided background for dancing and listening. In the midst of a white, wintery atmosphere, complete with a nine foot snowman, and skating pond, students were able to briefly forget the up-coming final exams.

Fred Bianco strains for the last 100 yards.

The York College Cross Country team under the coaching of Mr. Jake Jaquet, undertook one of its toughest years. Although the Dutchmen dropped their opening meet to Northeastern they bounced back to beat Allentown by a score of 24 to 31. The relatively inexperienced team had only two lettermen back from the previous year, Team Captain Fred Bianco and Drake Owen, who contributed greatly to the fine efforts of the whole team. Despite the final tally of 6 wins and 9 losses the team placed Fifth at the Northeastern Invitational meet at Villanova. With several lettermen returning next year, Coach Jaquet looks forward to a better season.

Soccer

A good boot moves the ball away from York's goal.

This year the Dutchmen combined skill with ability in a fast moving and exciting soccer season. Spear-headed by the fine coaching of Mr. Cummings and the leadership of co-captains, Dale Coble and Pat McGinn, the team showed great promise.

One of the team's most exciting victories was its win over Cantonsville, 1 to 0, who at the end of the season was ranked sixth in the nation. Two hard fought tilts were the Franklin & Marshall Frosh and the Millersville State College; both games were lost by a heart-breaking one point.

Final statistics for the seasons found Jim May with five goals, Ron Vieheger with five assists and Ronnie Young with eighty-nine saves. At the close of the year the team's record stood at four wins and six losses.

A quick grab and the Dutchmen control the ball.

Hopes were high for the 1968-69 season after the Dutchmen captured the State Championship last year. Coach Jaquet tried a new substitution method this year which proved very effective. By replacing five men at a time he was able to keep the game moving and rest his players at the same time. Two of their losses, were by the slim margin of one point; losing to Peirce and Baltimore were heart-breakers for the team. Although the season's total was 17 wins and 8 losses, the high point of the year was reached when York set a new scoring record in defeating Frederick Community College 153 to 81.

CHEERLEADERS

Students have shown a tremendous amount of enthusiasm for its athletic teams this year. This display of college spirit must be attributed to the York College cheerleaders and the Booster Club. The Booster Club was quite active making signs, organizing pep rallies, and arranging for busses to take spectators to games at other colleges. At soccer and basketball games our lively cheerleaders turned an emotion into a sound and let the players know the students were behind them 100%. These two organizations did much to instill spirit and enthusiasm into the York sports scene.

Editor's Epitaph

The 1969 HORIZON has meant many things to me—early mornings, late nights and hours in the darkroom. It has also meant satisfaction, new friends and frequent humorous moments. But more important, it has meant people.

Many people have played important parts in the production of this book and to them I wish to express my gratitude and, in some cases, pleas for forgiveness:

the entire HORIZON staff, especially those who stepped in at the last and those who stayed to the end;
Sue Smith, a better right-arm couldn't be found;
Barry Moss, who provided most of the words to go with the pictures;
Dee Hart, the fixture at the keyboard;
Dr. Anderson and Mr. Buckler for their encouragement and cooperation;
Gil, "the man with the golden camera", Tunney;
Ed Patrick, who "Taylor" made our yearbook;
Miss Helen McNitt, who taught me most of what I know about yearbooking; and Mr. Jon C. Crosby, who was always there.

With the closing of the cover another year lies bound within and the new experience we began comes to an end, yet, it also continues.
